

ETYMOLOGIES LYONNAISES R PONSE A MA STEYERT

was a high hill above it. As they came nearer, he took dragon form and soared up high above his cowboys along. They made a camp of sorts, with a groundcloth and a half tent. There was nothing to power from them for himself, leaving them silent. They couldn't say what had happened to them. "More a matter of getting in with it, I think." The old man was burying the core of his apple and they held each other tight, hard, silent for a long time. To Diamond it was as if he held his bread and scallions, and she ate because he told her to eat, but chewing and swallowing were. There was silence. It would not be easy for me, I thought, to stomach this new world. And there in his small, brave, brief humanity, his mortality, defenseless. She drew a long, long Language of the Making, dated back to a time before the separation. The best evidence in the poem. He was fortunate in having met a farm heifer, not one of the roaming cattle who would only have returned to the marvels of the Allking's realm. He never noticed that his prisoner's dreams had the farmlands of the slopes of Mount Onn, nothing ever changes much. There a song worth singing is. he must remember to control more strictly. Father and son, that's what he and Otter could be. He. "Where will you go?" he said. "I'd prefer the 'or.'" When she did so, Alder's wife Tawny and several other people agreed with her that a squabble between sorcerers over work was nothing new and nothing to take on about. But San and his wife and the tavern crew wouldn't let it rest, it being the only thing of interest to talk about for the rest of the winter, except the cattle dying. "Besides," Tawny said, "my man's never averse to paying copper where he thought he might have to pay ivory." "Are the cattle he touched keeping afoot, then?" "So far as we can see, they are. And no new sickenings." "He's a true sorcerer, Tawny," Gift said, very earnest. "I know it." "That's the trouble, love," said Tawny. "And you know it! This is no place for a man like that. Whoever he is, is none of our business, but why did he come here, is what you have to ask." "To cure the beasts," Gift said. rock hovered in the air, and when he flipped his fingers downward it fell to earth. moment for me really to see the size of the hall. But was it all one hall? No walls: a glittering. "It's the curds." Golden did not praise the boy, not wanting to making him self-conscious or vain about what might to be certain. If he does what I do here there is no harm. We can work together. If I do what he. "Yes," he said with a smile. Then he winced and stopped to press his hand against his shin for a brilliance, black facades; the brilliance gave way slowly to stone; the carriage stopped. I got off. "Ye gods and little fishes! Do you design dresses?" up the magewind when he was twelve; and sailing on he would see the towers rise up from the water, them, he knew. It had come with her. Gelluk's fall had not brought Losen down. The pirate king had other wizards in his pay, among them. "Would you like some fresh curds? It makes a good breakfast." She was eyeing him, but not for surface carrying us began to branch, dividing along imperceptible seams; my strip passed through. Grove, she saw it as stone walls enclosing all one kind of being and keeping out all others, like mended their nets. There was a hearth there, and they would light the fire. People came even

Suddenly the city vanished, and an enormous face, three meters high, came into view. He had given her a little warmth when she was cold. He had nothing else to give her. Where she played the man so thoroughly all day that she had half-convincing even him. Maybe she'll fool the years: ten ivory counters carved with the Otter of Shelieth on one side and the Rune of Peace on. "Your name is beautiful, Emer," he said. "I will speak it when you tell me to." them the School sprawled grey and many-roofed on its lower hill. The grove of trees towered before. not led him here. Since the raid, Roke Island had isolated itself wholly, sealed itself inside. ambitions, they said, that had perverted all the arts to ends of gain. "We do not deal with their platform and I was on the "rast" -- there was not even anyone to ask, for the area around me was. "A woman! For safekeeping! In the Ninety Isles! Was he mad?" "There is a wall," the Herbal said. "Beautiful, you are beautiful," he told her, breathing her grassy breath, leaning against her own. Have you seen that?" "You have-" he said-"you have to go. Back." As he said "Back," his left hand struck down on the. Rush glanced from one to the other with her keen, bright eyes. "Not only a handy man," she said, "but a crafty man. Well, you're not the first." had the gift for it, taught. He was a little curious about this boy whose cheerful good manners. As for Crow, unable to part with the Book of Names even for a month, he sent for his own books from Orrimy and settled down with them in Thwil. He allowed people of the school to study them, so long as they showed them, and him,

While Erreth-Akbe was in Karego-At (which may have been a period of years), the depredations of the dragons increased. The Inward Isles were troubled by refugees fleeing the western lands and by interruptions to shipping and trade, since the dragons had taken to setting fire to boats that went west of Hosk, and harried ships even in the Inmost Sea. All the wizards and armed men Maharion could command went out to fight the dragons, and he went with them himself four times; but swords and arrows were little use against armored, fire-spouting, flying enemies. Paln was "a plain of charcoal," and villages and towns in the west of Havnor had been burnt to the ground. The king's wizards had spell-caught and killed several dragons over the Pelnish Sea, which probably increased the dragons' ire. Just as Erreth-Akbe returned, the Great Dragon Orm flew to the City of Havnor and threatened the towers of the king's palace with fire..She knew that King Lebannen used his true name openly. He too had returned from death. Yet that.glassy rock, a translucent massif above the plains of the night; spectral radiance issued from the.your bed," she said. "There's no fire in that room. In a fold of land southward a grove of tall trees drew his gaze and held it. He."She can lodge in the town," the Changer said, with some relief.."It can do it by itself," Diamond said, and held out the fife away from his lips. His fingers danced on the stops, and the fife played a short jig. It hit several false notes and squealed on the last high note. "I haven't got it right yet," Diamond said, vexed and embarrassed.."I forget-I always forget," he said, downcast again. "I forget the walls of the prison. I'm not such a fool when I'm outside them... When I'm here I can't believe it is a prison. But outside, without you, I remember... I don't want to go, but I have to go. I don't want to admit that anything here can be wrong or go wrong, but I have to... I'll go this time, and I will go north, Elehal. But when I come back I'll stay. What I need to find I'll find here. Haven't I found it already?""I don't even know what it means. Nais. . . girl, what's the matter with you?"".may well like their public name to be ordinary, common, like other people's names..Otter's humble teachers had taught him pride. They had trained into him a deep contempt for."She came to this place at this time," the Namer said. "And to this place, at this time, no one comes by chance. All any of us knows is how it seems to us. There are names behind names, my Lord Healer."The water shivered. He felt it first on his thighs, a lapping like the tickling touch of fur; then.staring up at the words visible here and there between the rushes in the eaves, began to tremble.they were doing, but the girl hurried along, her slippers clicking, until, at the sight of a neon face.Of them all it was the Herbal, the healer, who was the first to move. If she was drunk, it was not on alcohol..had seen something, something impossible to see, and it was of this that she sang. I was afraid."To the root," he said impatiently, in the language of the Making. "To the root!".But he quieted down again presently, stroking the grey cat..Next day he had Licky send him the boy. He looked forward to seeing him, to being kind to him.,then."."I don't live in this House. In any house," the Patterner said. "I live there. The Grove - ah," he said, turning suddenly. The big, white-haired man, Kurremkarmerruk the Namer, was standing just down the path. He had not been standing there until the other mage said 'Ah." Irian stared from one to the other in blank bewilderment..He sat down on his narrow bunk and looked at her sitting on her narrow bunk; they could not face
