

THE JESUS MAN

"I don't see the strings." gazing out across the enormous kitchen, wide-eyed, watching the hunters. The white-uniformed cook. Face to glass, nose flattened a millimeter short of fracture, he peers into the car as if into an aquarium. "It's happened," Hanlon told him. "Kalens is dead. We found him inside the house, shot six times. Whoever did it knew what they were doing." had to do what needed to be done. "There wasn't anything that Veronica could have done," Celia went on, "I wasn't looking for someone to unload a guilt-trip on. What I had to say was a lot bigger than that. The mind of the man who is now in control up there is as dangerous as it's possible to get-abnormally intelligent, in full command of all its faculties, and totally insane. Stern believes himself to be infallible and invincible, and he'll stop at nothing. He's holding what's left of the Army because he has succeeded in selling them a lie. And I was the only person who could expose that lie. There won't be any autopsy revelations-the body has already been cremated." Celia looked briefly at each of them in turn and was met by appalled stares as they saw what Colman had already seen a few seconds before. Hiding in the tiny toilet enclosure is out of the question. The owners just came from the restaurant, and. "Donella, don't be too hard on the kid. He didn't mean nothing by what he said. Nothing like you think. He's in a large commercial kitchen with a white-ceramic-tile floor. Banks of large ovens, cooktops, visiting from Beyond. Pale and willowy, the woman spun and swooned and jerked erect and spun again. She placed the first-aid kit on the bed, beside her mother's digital camera. extra hole on Remus," Jay said at last. "I mean, we brought enough scientists with us, and they can access the Chironian records as easily as anyone else. The Chironians aren't exactly secretive about their physics." BERNARD FALLOWS ROLLED back a cuff of his shirt that had started to work itself loose and stood back to survey the master bedroom of the family's new temporary apartment, situated near the shuttle base on the outskirts of Franklin. The unit was one of a hundred or so set in clusters of four amid palm like trees and secluding curtains of foliage which afforded a comfortable measure of privacy without inflicting isolation. The complex was virtually a self-contained community, and was known as Cordova Village. It included a large, clover-shaped, open-air pool and an indoor one by the gymnasium and sports enclosure; a restaurant and bar adjoined a spacious public lounge that doubled as a game room; for recreation a laboratory, a workshop, and art studios, all fully equipped; and an assortment of musical instruments. From a terminal below the main building, cars running in tubes and propelled by linear induction left for the center of Franklin in one direction, and for the shuttle base and points along the Mandel Peninsula in the other. She couldn't clearly hear Sinsemilla's ranting because of the snake lashing a crazy drumbeat on the so full of life. And you still are everything you were then. None of it's lost forever. All that promise, all. Extracting the cheese tray from the refrigerator, Micky said, "Are you cooking for a cellblock full of. Seated, bowing her head, Geneva offered a succinct but heart felt prayer: "Thank you, God, for. Our ability to attack the Kuan-yin, on the other hand, is unimpaired, and I am sure that you will have worked out for yourselves already that its destruction would be guaranteed. We command the entire surface of Chiron, the Mayflower II has been reduced to a defenseless condition, and the implications of those facts are obvious." "Bernie, this is too much!" Jean's voice came up from the lounge area below. "I'm never going to get used to this." Bernard smiled to himself and left Jay's room to enter the open elevator cubicle by the top of the curving stairway. Seconds later he walked out again and into the lounge. John was standing in the center of the floor between the dining room and the area of sunken floor before the king-size wall screen that formed a comfortable enclave surrounded by a sofa, two large armchairs, and a revolving case of shelves half recessed into the wall; a coffee table of dark-tinted glass formed its centerpiece. She gestured helplessly. "What are we ever going to do with all this space? You know, I'm really beginning to think I might end up developing agoraphobia." of Planets, and Leilani waving goodbye with an American flag in one hand and a Fourth of July sparkler. "There are two of them. Whatever we do to that one won't stop them from closing the second one." Do you believe in life after death? CHAPTER THIRTEEN. "I'm not sure. I guess I couldn't have been listening that much." Whatever the answers might turn out to be, he couldn't fathom what they might have to do with making model steam locomotives and his father's solemn pronouncement that it really wouldn't be a good idea for him to continue his friendship with Steve Colman. But there had been no point in making a fuss over it, so he had lied about his intentions without feeling guilty because the people who told him not to be dishonest hadn't given him any choice. Well, they had technically, but that didn't count because there were things they didn't understand either . . . or had forgotten, maybe. But Steve would understand. 'We'll manage,' Veronica promised. 'They're more awkward than heavy. You worry too much.' Driscoll sighed irritably. This was no time for long debates. 'You don't understand,' he said. 'Nine. But I'm precocious. What's your name?' Perplexed by this odd question, Leilani looked to Micky for clarification. As the Windchaser slows steadily, Curtis slides shut the window and takes up a position at the bedroom. The banking and financial fraternity was solemnly predicting chaos over land tenure in years to come and wanted the government to assume responsibility for a proper survey of unused lands, to be parceled out under approved deeds of title and offered against a workable system of mortgages, which they magnanimously volunteered to finance. The manufacturing and materials-industry lobbies agreed with the bankers that a monetary system would have to be imposed to check the "reckless profligacy of inefficiency and waste" and to promote "fair and honest" competition; they disagreed with bankers over the mortgage issue, however, claiming that development lad on Chiron had already been deemed up for grabs "by virtue of natural precedent"; they disagreed with each other about prices and tariffs, the manufacturers pushing for deregulation of cheap (i.e., free) Chironian raw materials and for protection on consumer prices, and the commodity suppliers wanting things the other way around. The educational and medical professions were anxious to discharge their obligations to teach the Chironians when they were well and treat them when they were not, but were more anxious for a mechanism to raise the taxes for funding them, while the legal profession pressed for a properly constituted judicial system as a first move, ostensibly to facilitate collecting the tees. The other groups went along with the taxes as long as each secured better breaks than the others, except the religious leaden, who didn't care since they would be exempt anyway. But they clashed with the teachers over a move to place minister in the schools in order to "strangle at its roots the evil and decay which is loose upon this planet," with the doctors over whether the causes were cultural or spiritual, with the lawyer over the issue of making the Chironian practice of serial, and at times parallel, polygamy and polyandry illegal, and with everybody over the question of "emergency" subsidies for erecting churches. 'Don't leave them at the post,' Sirocco said. 'Go with them to Kath's, find out as much as you can about what the hell the situation is, and then get back here as soon as you can. "Cops haven't had one lead in eighteen years." Lechat stared at the Director's seat next to him, and while he was still turning his head perplexedly from one side to the other, the first approving murmurs and ripples of applause began coming from among the members and one by one they realized what it meant. The applause rose to an ovation as at last Lechat, looking a little awkward but with a broad smile breaking out across his face, stood up again and moved to stand before the Mission Director's seat, which under the emergency proviso had become his automatically. Wellesley had wanted it so, even if Lechat's term of office would be measured only in minutes. "Oh, I don't know... four, five, maybe. I used to like all the lights and the life here, but it gets to be too hectic after a while. Now I prefer the hills. It's mainly the youngsters who live right inside Franklin these days, but some of the Founders are still here." The girl put down the beer on the far side of her plate, out of Micky's reach. Her manner was casual. Outside the Haven of the Lonesome and the Long Forgotten, under trellises draped with bougainvillea, "So-o-o-o?" won't draw the man's attention as much as will the movement of the door closing. For a second longer Colman hesitated, and then found himself smiling back at her as the awareness dawned of what the elusive light dancing in her eyes was saying to him—he was a free individual in a free world. And suddenly the barrier crumbled away. "A lot of people are starting to think he could have had those bombs planted. What do you think?" package of frankfurters to his chest, scampering like a monkey, and retreating pell-mell from the battle. "If you say so," Stanislaw said. "you're thinking about Ashley Judd or Sharon Stone, or maybe Pam Grier." "Relax." Micky switched on the light above the sink. "I can handle it." Perhaps peace came only with acceptance. "What alternative?" Instead of a lawn with trees, a narrow covered patio shaded the front entrance. Here in back, a strip of. Hesitantly, the intruder follows the mutt into Starship Command Center. It doesn't add up to the way Sterm's acting." Music began playing, the crowd dispersed back to the bar and tables, and conversations started to pick up again. Colman and his companions went back upstairs, and Driscoll collected another round of drinks from the bar while the others sat where they had been earlier. They talked for a while about the incident, agreed it was a bad thing to have happened, wondered what would come of it, and eventually changed the subject. Farther along the corridor, toward the front of the care home, Richard Velnod's door was open.
